

---

Articles

- The Road to Szigetvár: Ferdinand I's Defense of His Hungarian Border, 1548–1566
BY JAMES TRACY 17
- The Vienna Hofburg between 1835 and 1918—A Residence in the Conflicting Fields of Art, Politics, and Representation
BY WERNER TELESKO, RICHARD KURDIOVSKY, AND DAGMAR SACHSENHOFER 37
- Austro-German Liberalism and the Coming of the 1867 Compromise:
“Politics Again in Flux”
BY JONATHAN KWAN 62
- Scandal at the Opera: Politics, the Press, and the Public at the Inauguration of the Budapest Opera House in 1884
BY MARKIAN PROKOPOVYCH 88
- Creating Jewish Space: German-Jewish Schools in Moravia
BY MARSHA L. ROZENBLIT 108
- Power, Partisanship, and the Grid of Democratic Politics: 1907 as the Pivot Point of Modern Austrian History
BY JOHN W. BOYER 148
-  Cubism's Sex: Masculinity and Czech Modernism, 1911–1914
BY THOMAS ORT 175

- World War I and Internal Repression: The Case of Major General Nikolaus Cena
BY IRINA MARIN 195
-

Historiography and Politics

- The Age of Heroes in Historiography: The Example of Prince Eugene of Savoy
BY FILIP ŠIMETIN ŠEGVIĆ AND TOMISLAV BRANĐOLICA 211
- Croatia's Politics of the Past during the Tuđman Era (1990–1999)—Old Wine in New Bottles?
BY LJILJANA RADONIĆ 234
- Remains of a Picnic: Post-Transition Hungary and Its Austro-Hungarian Past
BY MÁRTON DORNBACH 255
-