

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Editors' Preface	5
I. ARTICLES AND STUDIES	7
Luka Špoljarić Rhetoricizing Effeminacy in Twelfth-Century Outremer: William of Tyre and the Byzantine Empire	9
Divna Manolova Innovation and Self-reflection in Sophonias' Paraphrasis of De Anima	23
Parker Snyder A Network Analysis – Spatial and Temporal Patterns of the Cistercian Reform from 1098 - 1400	43
Kyra Lyublyanovics The Cattle of Muhi. Animal Husbandry in a Thirteenth-Century Hungarian Village	65
Wojciech Kozłowski The Dynastic Horizons of the Árpáds and Piasts, ca. 1150-1250	85
Ilona Ferenczi Poetry of Power: Queen Mary of Hungary (1382-1395) in a Venetian Mirror	103
Veronika Csikós Angevin Courtly Art as Reflected in the Gilded Chapel of Our Lady in Pécs	113
Edina Ádám Pelbárt of Temesvár and the Use of Images in Preaching	131
Seda Erkoç Repercussions of a Murder: The Death of Sehzade Mustafa on the Early Modern English Stage	145
Fifteen Years of Medieval Studies in Central Europe	169
Marianne Sághy Medieval Perspectives after the Fall	171
Rossina Kostova Bulgarian Landscapes in Medieval Studies	177
Trpimir Vedriš Reviving the Middle Ages in Croatia	197
Antonín Kalous Medieval Research in the Czech Republic	213
Anu Mänd Medieval Studies in Estonia	221
Levan Gigineishvili Quo Vadis Medieval Studies in Georgia?	231

Michael Brauer
Medieval History and Medieval Studies in Germany: From Cultural to Transcultural	237
Benedek Láng
The Renaissance of the Middle Ages in Hungary	247
Giedrė Mickūnaitė
Lithuania: Let's Celebrate the Anniversary of Greatness	257
Ryszard Grzesik
The Study of the Middle Ages in Poland	265
Carmen Florea
Is There a Future for Medieval Studies in Romania?	279
Péter Levente Szőcs
Medieval Studies on the Border	287
Ildar H. Garipzanov
Interdisciplinarity, Internationalization, and Christian identity in Modern Medieval Studies	297
Nada Zečević
Medieval Studies in Serbia 1993 – 2008	305
Martin Homza
The Making of Medieval Studies in Slovakia	313
David Movrin
Base and Superstructure: Medieval Studies in Slovenia and a Change of Context	325
Yuriy Zazuliak
A Discipline without a Past: Medieval Studies in Ukraine	339
Giles Constable
Recent Trends in the Study of the Middle Ages	355
Laudatio for János Bak for His Eightieth Birthday	367
Patrick Geary
János Bak	369
Gábor Klaniczay
János as a Colleague	371
Péter Banyó
Reminiscences of Professor Bak	373
II DEPART OF THE VEAD	375